Fall 2025 | Lagniappe Academic Enrichment Program Sparkling Stories Workshop Adolescent Conference

Are you in the 7th through 11th grade?

Ever binge a podcast, get lost in a comic, fall in love with a character from a play or short story, or hear a great song, and think, “I could totally do this”? Here’s your shot.

Welcome to a workshop where ideas cook, and creativity rules. We’ll spark up stories, poems, ads, podcasts, and anything else you’re ready to throw in the mix. Want to write with the aura of your favorite creator? Or bring your own main character’s energy to the page? Show up with your wildest ideas and see what happens when blank pages meet serious inspiration.

We’re remixing all kinds of writing—poetry, fiction, ads, and multimedia. This is where you experiment, level up, and find your crew.

Join us to jump-start your writing in this one-day program presented by the Center for Gifted Education, the National Writing Project of Acadiana (NWP-A), and in conjunction with the Festival of Words. Sessions will be led by the NWP-A Leadership Team: Dr. Michelle Creamer, Dr. Toby Daspit, and Dr. Megan Breaux.
